Attendance Policy

Scouting is designed as a continual program of development for young people, which requires a high level of commitment. We expect that all young people will attend every week unless they have a good reason (e.g. illness or school commitment)

Our volunteer leaders put a lot of time and effort into planning the program, and having young people drop out with little or no notice causes major problems. Therefore, parents are required to let us know as early in advance as possible (by email, phone or text to the relevant leader) if their son or daughter will not be attending a particular session.

Failure to attend for three consecutive weeks without good reason (e.g. illness / family holiday / school event) or regular non-attendance without notice will result in the young person being asked to leave the Group. Any subs, trip fees, etc. will be non-refundable.

Online Activity sign-up

We use an automated system to send out signup requests for trips, events, etc. Please make our lives easier by clicking on the link and responding either “yes” or “no” – not responding at all makes it very hard for our leaders to plan trips as they do not have a good idea of how many will be attending. Thank you for your cooperation.
